bringing buildings to life, for life

Energy advice tourism KOALA

On the initiative of the Entrepreneurship Agency, an energy scan is offered to hotels, holiday parks, meeting venues, youth accommodation and attractions in order to reduce the company's CO2 emissions and thus the monthly energy costs.

Ingenium will carry out these energy scans and, based on energy invoices, available information and a site visit, provide an analysis of consumption and the profitability of possible energy savings. These can concern the building, the installations as well as the commercial vehicles. If the choice is made to implement one of the proposed measures, guidance advice is also offered in order to come to fruition.
